

.....

Customer Update COVID-19

.....

We are deeply committed to the well-being of our employees, customers and the communities we serve—so for the next few weeks the majority of our employees will be working remotely from their homes.

It is our goal to make sure our business continues to run as smoothly as possible. Currently, all manufacturing locations are fully operational and there are no expected delays in the shipment of products. We have not been informed by any suppliers of a raw material shortage due to coronavirus (COVID-19) that would cause production disruptions. Hopefully, our in-stock status will remain constant but could change if the state or local governments enact any quarantines that affect one of our locations or a travel ban that restricts the movement of our products.

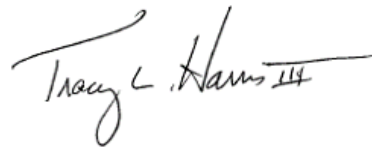

Our Customer Service department will continue to accept your orders via email and EDI and are available to take your call.

The COVID-19 outbreak is going to affect our lives—but not the quality of our work. We are very grateful for your business, and our thoughts are with your company and family as we all navigate this unprecedented time.

Follow guidelines for health. Be safe. Stay well.

Mark A. Taylor
Vice President – Marketing
Central Life Sciences

Tracy L. Harris III
Vice President - Sales
Central Life Sciences